“ Yesterday at about 3:00 pm, our beloved Orange Kitty (Abraham) crossed the bridge. He was our loyal and faithful companion for nearly 18 years. He was a singular a character as the many posts on Facebook over the years will show. This is our favorite picture of him, sitting, as he did all his life with his paws crossed. As you might imagine, Charlie and I are heartbroken, but take comfort that he was healthy and fine until the end. We are especially grateful for Jennifer Birge who met us, picked up the pieces, and helped us make his final arrangements. We will miss our sweet wonderful guy.
