

Brando Lavenziano

May 31, 2024

Just over 12 years ago, Ivory, a young little boy sitting at his desk desperately searched on the internet to find you. Coming to us a stray at about 5 months old after hurricane Sandy and living on the streets in Georgia as a newborn for the first 4 months of your life, how brave you were surviving the best way you could. Thank God, they found you and brought you to us. You have been the best companion of all time. Handsome, loyal, sweet, polite, funny, with an attitude at times and so intelligent. As a strong guardian of our home throughout your 12 years and 1 month and 5 days, you barked only when necessary, letting us know someone was near and always, always had immeasurable unconditional love for those of us that knew you. In fact, the more the merrier as you loved a good party. Literally shedding so much joy and your hair to even strangers and homeless on the street as you approached with a smile and a tail wag. Everyone fell in love the moment they met you. It has been nothing more than the greatest of gifts to have had you in our lives. You have truly shown how we should be treating each other and if we all lived our lives with you in mind how much more of a better, more compassionate wonderful world we would all live in.

Rest in Peace my Sweet Boy Brando, your parents will miss you so, so much every day of our lives. Until we meet again, our Sweetest Angel, Godspeed, Buddha, Mohawk, Luna, Deuce, Hagrid and Elvis will be waiting for you. May you return to us in one way shape or form real soon.

We'll Love You Forever and Ever,
Mommy and Daddy

“ We lost our sweet Angel, Brando this morning. He was surrounded with his friends... birds & Squirrels & all the toys he loves... Mommy & Daddy was hugging him when he took his last breath. He was such a beautiful soul. His unconditional love was so pure. Our pain was greater than anything we could imagine. He was a true fighter, he had fought this tumor over 14 months when his Vet said he would only live for 2-3 weeks... he fought with all his strength....His love had taught us that it can help you through anything. Thank you Brando for all 12 years & 1 months & 5 days in this world. Our world would be so much better & more beautiful when we have a soul like yours...Rest in Peace our sweet Munchkin Pie... We love you very very much... You will always be with us ❤️
