“ Cajun, you were a very special soul in the body of a dog. You were gentle, intelligent, brave, and loyal. You heard the Mahamantra and will undoubtedly get a human birth in a devotee family where you will be educated to rise above this entire material world. You were the friend I never deserved and I failed to do adequate service for you. You suffered so much prejudice from material persons. You will always be in my heart, I take full responsibility for guiding your soul the rest of the way to Gokula. Hare Krishna.
