“ Today may be the last day of your tribute Daisy girl. It does not get easier with time at least not yet. Every day I see you right in front of my eyes as if you were right here. I expect you to come and eat cause you were right there by my feet as I was cooking for you. I expect to feel you next to me when I sleep , you always kept me so warm. When I look over at the couch I expect to see your cute little face and it's just not there. Daisy I miss you so much. My heart aches for you. I don't think a day will ever go by when I don't ache for you. You will always be my little girl..Love you always..Your mom...

“ Sweet girl, we miss you so much. We know you are in heaven playing and eating like crazy....your favorite thing to do...max and cody miss their sister...It will never ever be the same without you.. Sharon came here today to groom your brothers and she cried so much for you...it broke my heart. Blowing kisses to you but I know you know that..hugs

“ Day five. Daisy I can not feed my other babies without putting your plate of food for you.. We have sympathy card and flowers that were sent to you my girl... You are so special..Dad cries all day long for you. Your brothers are still so sad... We walk them a lot more now and try to cheer them up but They look for you... We can not believe you are gone... The only thing that helps us is to know that you are not having a hard time breathing any more...always and forever....

“ I had the great pleasure and honor to have had Daisy in my life for the past couple of months. My last memory of her, was of her barking at the tv at another dog. ( she was saying hello to one of her fellow canines. She was one of the sweetest dogs I have ever had the pleasure of meeting.

The love that was showered on her by Maria, Mario, and Vincent was plentiful and unconditional. I know that Daisy is happy and in peace now as she watches her owners up in heaven with love.

I love you Daisy Girl RIP

“ Daisy came into our life and has been such an angel. She was the middle sister to max and Cody. Daisy made my life complete by being there as one of my three best friends. She was also my TV companion, she knew from a few rooms away when a commercial came on with dogs and she would come running in the room barking like crazy wagging her little tail. Daisy was the first one on the food line lol how she loved to eat. She would put her paw in the dish so the dish did not move..this was so funny!! and she would always wait for her daddy to come home, how she loved Mario. Right now I can't imaging getting through the day without her. I keep thinking she will be there but she is not. I pray an angel came for her when she left us while we were holding her with tears running from our eyes. max our other dog is looking all over for her and actually looks like he has tears in his eyes and is sleeping in her little tiger bed which he has never done before ...I guess he is finding comfort there or maybe smells the scent of his sister...Daisy you will be forever in our hearts, always our little girl and I wait for the day that I can hold you again in my arms....Love you forever and ever...
