“ You were nibbling on another pup's ear when I first saw you...
I know you don't like other dogs, but here's a dog to keep you company and you can bite its ear.

Funnel will learn how to get along with the other good dog. She will appreciate it that you give her the companion.

Vivian Leung - December 16, 2011 at 12:41 PM

“ It's been two weeks...
I will miss your bark and presence during break. I love you! I'm so sorry that I couldn't make it back in time. But I know that you're in a good place right now <3 Love and miss you.
Nothing will replace you. I promise.

Vivian Leung - December 16, 2011 at 12:40 PM

“ I miss you Funnel!!! You kept me going since you joined our family. I couldn't thank you enough for your unconditional love. Now you are gone....

“ God! I miss you so much. I miss holding you like a baby, kissing you, licking by you & your warm greeting every time I walked into the house. No one can replace you. You are one the only one can stay close in my heart. I promise you that I would take care of you once you joined our family 9 years ago. You were my best friend since then. You were my shadow. It is so hard to adjust myself without your physical presence. But I can assure you that you are always & will be in my heart forever. You are an angel in our family. I know you are up in the heaven now.
Thank you so much for giving your unconditional love!

“ Thank you for your understanding and loving me unconditionally for nine years-- even when I was being difficult to be around. You've always been there for me through the toughest times, and the only being who truly understood everything that I was going through. You always knew when I was at my lowest points, and always rushed to comfort me. I really wish that you were here to lick my tears away, like you always did.

You were just like me-- loyal, stubborn, and determined. But most importantly, you were always strong, fought for what you believed in, and the loveliest dog in the world.

I miss taking naps with you and bathing with you, during my adolescent years. I knew you were the perfect dog for me because you were the only dog that I was not afraid of. I first saw you when you were on top of another dog, nibbling on his/her ear-- but when I picked you up, you were so small and at ease as you laid on my chest.

I promised you that you will never be replaced-- and no one ever will. You are one of the few things that I love, and I'm so thankful for all of the wonderful moments that you gave me and my family.

I can go on, and on, but the bottom line is: I love you, forever. You will never be forgotten. Funnel Cake, you were my sister and my best friend.

"Miss you, Funnel Cake. See you later-- be good."
