“ This beautiful Korat, Greebo, was presented to me by my beloved companion, Eric, who passed away in pandemic. Eric drank himself to death in a hotel room with Greebo and his little brother, Merlin. Greebo survived and was the companion who got me through the initial trauma. He comforted me and gave me all the love and support I needed to process the event. I loved him back so intensely and he was my shadow. He was almost 20 and was diagnosed with kidney disease last winter. Greebo passed away in August and it has been a heartbreaking loss. I miss him so! He was the most amazing soul and beloved by all our friends and family — so social, he lives hanging out with everyone. He lives on in my heart and soul and will always be a part of me. These are some of my favorite images of him that always make me smile.
