

Gypsy Hudson

April 24, 2012

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Gypsy Hudson

January 28, 2023 at 12:38 PM

“ Gypsy Hudson

January 28, 2023 at 10:16 AM

“ Andrew Hudson lit a candle in memory of Gypsy Hudson

Andrew Hudson - April 28, 2014 at 12:26 PM

“ I will always remember Gypsy greeting me at the door, or in the alley if she was out, and I'd always ask her "Where's your toy?" and she would run and get the nearest toy and bring it to me. She was such a good, pleasant and elegant "lady"....rest in peace!!
Susan

Susan Helber - May 11, 2012 at 06:18 PM

AN

“ I will always remember when Gypsy came to live at Second Street back in November of 2000. Judy and Ann had taken off for Italy on a Holy Year Pilgrimage and I was the "lucky" one to be left in charge of Katie & Gypsy. The first time I let the girls out into the back yard, Gypsy, with the grace of a gazelle, hopped right over the back fence and ran away! She did come back though, after a walk around the block. Sergio did help me wedge the top of an old kitchen table into the space between the fence and the garage wall just in case she decided to try to exit stage left when the call of the wild came again. One of the days while Lucy & Ethel were on the pilgrimage I did come home and found Gypsy assembling an arrangement of cotton balls on Judy's mattress. When it hit me that Judy didn't use cotton balls, I realized that Gypsy had chewed a hole in the mattress and was removing the stuffing.....hence, the " cotton balls "!!!!

AndrewHudson26 - May 10, 2012 at 03:07 PM

AN

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

AndrewHudson26 - May 04, 2012 at 02:49 PM

AN

There should only be one " Gypsy Rose Lee Hudson " Don't know what happened there other than the machine has a repeat key that I wasn't aware of at the time.

AndrewHudson26 - May 10, 2012 at 02:43 PM