

Hannah DePalma

March 21, 2025

No obituary found for this tribute.

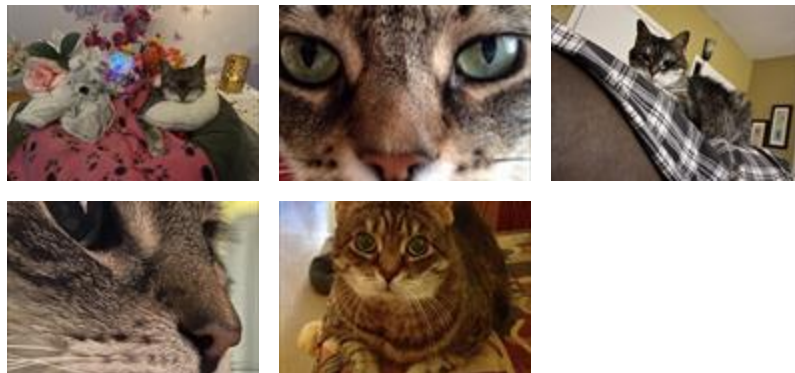

Tribute Wall

QU

“ Hannah, our sweet, purry kitty. You walked into our home and into our hearts. For 16 years, you followed me, kept me company, perched on the back of the sofa, just to be near us. Such a gentle kitty cat who loved to play with her toys and jump so high to grab a string. You loved to rub your face on my hand. I love how affectionate you were and I'm going to miss your companionship. You will always be my heart kitty, that special one who would stare into my eyes and tell me how much you loved me.

I miss you, my kitty girl, my Miss Klitty, My Hannie Hannah, my precious girl.

Until we meet each other's eyes and I hear your purr again.

queenlahtina - March 22, 2025 at 04:44 AM