

Jasmine Buwalda

March 6, 2018

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Jasmine Buwalda

January 28, 2023 at 12:38 PM

“ Jasmine Buwalda

January 28, 2023 at 10:16 AM

SS

“ In memory of Jasmine -

I am her Aunt. Lol. Human Aunt. She was my sister's long term cat and was a big part of our family.

I affectionately called her Jazz-Mine or Jazzy.

She was very quiet and stayed in the corners of the room when guests would arrive at the Buwalda home. She normally would check things out and when she was comfortable she would then approach me.

One night I crashed on the couch at their home.

I was dreaming that something was buzzing right by my head. I woke up and Jazzy was right on the arm of the couch by my head. At first, it scared me but then she was purring and just wanted to be with me to pet her. Lol. She was a character.

Also, a few times a found her starring out the patio door looking at squirrels n other passing animals. If she could talk, she probably would say- Thank God I am safe in my warm home!!

Loved her like my own pet.

May she rest in peace over the Rainbow Bridge and meet up with my recently deceased greyhounds - Gracie n Maxx.

Love Aunt Stacey

Stacey Sellaro - March 11, 2018 at 05:30 PM