“ I love Lucy so much. I was blessed to meet and help take care of her at the vet. She use to hate getting her nails trim and I would take her to the back and hold her close to me and give her plenty kisses while her nails were being trimmed. We grew a bond together when with her serious look after everything was done she always put a smile on my face. It broke my heart to hear of her news. Lucy you will always be my baby girl and carry you in my heart always. In the years of caring for her at the vet , me and the bonito family became family. Vincent became my brother from another mother because we grew close in friendship and I adore his beloved mom and Lucy's brother Sam. Vincent I keep you in prayers always and you have a lot of guardian angels watching over you 🙏
