

Oliver Reeseeg

February 7, 2023

Oliver was saved as a tiny kitten along with his 5 siblings in the summer of 2010. His mama had been killed by a truck at A&M Industrial, here in Rahway. Lindsay brought them all home and spent her whole paycheck at PetSmart getting them checked out by the veterinarian. We became their substitute mamas, feeding them kitty formula by bottle and teaching them to go potty as a cat should. From the first, Ollie, who was the runt, stood out among the litter. He immediately connected with our dog, Shaggy, and they became best buds for life. They were inseparable. Oliver was the cat boss. He grew from runt to massive in size. He was a lover, at times, but only on his terms. He would usually give a warning before he would bite. Some people were petrified of him. Others wouldn't take his crap. You all know who you are!

Ollie grew to have a very special bond with his human mom. He earned acknowledgment as the first to find her brain aneurysm by laying on her head at night. He was known as quite a selfish boy. All the food, water, catnip, litter, windows, couches, beds and his human mama were his and he didn't like to share. He is predeceased by his first feline nemesis, Cleo and by his best canine friend, Shaggy. He will be missed and is survived by his loving human family, his feline sidekick, Stanley and his actual feline sister, Ellie (who may actually be relieved no longer here to bully her). Rest in Peace, Oliver. We will remember you forever.

Tribute Wall

“ Good bye lil dude.

Glenda Reeseg - February 09, 2023 at 11:09 PM

“ Oliver (Aka VERNE) - Friend or Foe to all. I will miss you.

Lindsay Ramsay - February 09, 2023 at 08:03 PM

AR

“ *32 files added to the album Oliver Reese*g

Ann Reeseg - February 09, 2023 at 05:44 PM