“ When my sister and I would babysit her she was so funny. She would give us a hard time when it came to feeding her but she always ended up eating. Afterwards we would put her on her bed and she would fall right to sleep. And when we would first walk in she always looked at is wanting a treat haha. I'm going to miss that a lot. Sometimes we would dress her up and we could tell she hated to get dressed up haha. When mommy would put a bow in her head Fufu would try everything to get it off. She hated it. I'm going to miss holding her and giving her kisses and talking to her. It would sound crazy but one day when I slept over I literally had like a conversation with her. (I don't think she cared about what I was saying all she wanted was to go to sleep). I'm really going to miss her sooo much. But I know she is in a better place. We love you fufu. (Fufu was my nickname for her).
