“ When I first got Saphie from Vicky she fit in the palm of my hand. I remember teaching her how to fetch when she was Two years old. Playing with her feather on-a-stick was a sure way to get her motivated...

Watching her play with a new toy was always a highpoint, and when she snuggled up with me and bumped noses with me for hours...reaching out with her paw to tell me she wanted more, and purring every time she saw me enter the room. She would rub her paws on your shoe when she was excited to see you, Saphie (Sapphire) was the best feline friend I ever had.

She loved everyone that came into contact with her too...which I've been told is unusual for a Siamese...but not Saphie. She was so full of personality...playful, and very vocal. She lived a full life and always be a part of me...forever.
