“ Hey baby, I have made sure to continue our tradition every year. Soon it'll be a full 2 years.. And god do I miss you every single day, I make sure to always talk about you to your sister Sage, I know she loves you just as much as I love you. I promise you though, we are both in very good hands together too. I think about you every single day that passes and I wish I could hold you and your sister in my arms. I miss your wet little nose and the way you smelled like fritos sometimes, or the way your little paws would pitter patter against the floorboard. I wish you could have seen our new apartment, but you live on in mine and your sisters heart. She has really kept me together in some of the hardest times, but I know you watch us from where you are, content, wagging your little happy tail, and living like the sweet princess you always were. <3

“ Hi baby, it's mommy. I miss you so much every single day. Today marks a full year without you my sweet girl, I have cried and I have laughed so much over this year. But nothing can ever fill the tiny cracks still left behind from this loss. You have a baby sister now though, her name is Sage. She's done a lot and taken a lot of time to repair this hurt, she's sweet and loving and I swear sometimes she just knows and maybe you've spoken to her before. I love you so much and not a day goes by where I'm not missing you. I've made sure to tell your sister all about you too. One day we will be reunited again, and one day I will be able to hold you again and have you meet your baby sister as well. Thank you for everything you've ever done babygirl. Me and Sage love you so very much.

“ hi my beautiful angel, i miss you so much. i hope every time you hear me tell you good morning and baby talk to you you start to wiggle all over the place. i keep thinking about all your silly memories and the funny craziness you'd do. i miss how expressive you were and how affectionate and cuddly you always were, you never turned down cuddling every time i patted the bed beside me. i would love how every morning or moment i got up for a minute you would immediately go to my side of the bed, either because it was super warm or smelled like me or both. i miss your little face and excitement when you would notice i was staying home from work and that you were going to have me for a whole day with you. i love you so much my sweet girl
