“ He was pure love. I always felt like he didn't have regular guts in his body, he just had a million hearts floating around inside of him. He had been homeless, living on the street for 10 years before he came home, and he never had a chip on his shoulder about it... he just lived every second in gratitude and love. He was the most beautiful person inside and out. If everyone could be even just somewhat like him, the world would be a much more beautiful and peaceful place. He taught me so much and changed me and my life for the so much better. I don't know how I'm going to have to exist without him.
