“ *Toto has been with me for the last 8 of his 14 years and was the most wonderful dog every single day of each year. He never faltered, was never less than a gentleman (getting up to follow me everywhere I went even when it was painful for him to do so), and was and will be my true soulmate forever. I can't think of any one memory to talk about because every one is a perfect one. He lived a long, happy life that I was more than happy to give him and it crushes me that I will live the rest of my life without being able to hug and kiss him. I know that now he is happy again, comfortable again, and running through a beautiful field like a puppy with Sasha. To the sweetest, most adorable, most loyal little boy in the world, thank you for the years of happiness you gave me that I will cherish until I see you again.
Bye bye my baby.*
